SAT stands for Scholastic Assessment Test

- 1. Those applying for higher education or professional registration in another country must take the SAT Exam.
- 2. Administered by the Educational Testing Service (ETS) on behalf of the College Board, SAT aims to gauge applicants' competence for admission at the undergraduate programs at Universities and Colleges. SAT examines candidates on the parameters of Mathematics, Reading Test as well as Writing & Language Test. SAT is generally opted for by high school juniors and seniors. A few Colleges outside USA also use SAT scores as a criterion for admission. The SAT is a standardized test, i.e., it is given under the same conditions and scored the same way for all test-takers.
- 3. The SAT is an important requirement of the college admissions process. It is one of the factors that colleges consider when making admissions decisions. If you are planning on applying to college, you should take the SAT seriously and prepare for it accordingly.
- 4. We offer a comprehensive SAT prep course that covers all aspects of the SAT, from the Math and Reading sections to the Essay and Writing sections. Our SAT prep course is designed to help students ace the SAT and get into the college of their dreams.
